MANY CABINET CHANGES SAID TO BE PENDING

Houston, Redfield, McAdoo and Possibly Lansing May Resign Shortly After Second Term Begins.

VROOMAN TO REPLACE HUSTON

President So Engaged in International Matters He Has Been Unable to Carefully Consider His Cabinet Personnel As Yet.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—It is learned that important changes are scheduled. It is reliably stated that Secretary of Agriculture Houston, Secretary of Commerce Redfield, McAdoo and possibly Lansing may resign several months after the second term begins.

Redfield will accept a position with a large manufacturing concern. McAdoo expects to enter private business. The state department change is most uncertain. It is unconfirmedly reported that Lansing may become ambassador to Great Britain. Carl Vrooman is mentioned to succeed Houston. Representative Glass will replace McAdoo. President Wilson is so engaged with international matters that he is unable to carefully consider his cabinet as yet.

MAYOR GILL WANTS AN EARLY TRIAL ON LIQUOR INDICTMENT

Seattle Official and Chief of Police Both Refuse to Interpose Any Technical Delays; Gill May Decide to Defend Himself.

SEATTLE, Jan. 29.—Mayor Gill and Police Chief Beckingham announced they wanted an early trial on a charge of conspiring to violate the liquor laws. Both refuse to interpose technical delays. Ex-Sheriff Hodges will attack the indictment. It may delay the trial. The next federal court term opens February thirteenth. The mayor may defend himself. He is a member of a Seattle law firm.

DRIVES CAR HEADON INTO PASSING TRAIN

Alex Breding Is Unhurt Although Engine Front End of Auto Is Torn Off in Accident.

Bearing out the facetious suggestion made at the council last week that trains crossing East Court street are in more danger from speeding autos than autos are from the trains was an incident which happened early yesterday morning when Alex Breding drove his car headon into a passing O-W. train. The auto, however, got the worst of the encounter, its whole front end being torn off. Breding was unhurt.

The accident happened about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Breding had as a passenger in the car Bud Cornfield who had only been home from the Mexican border about two hours. As they approached the East Court street crossing a train was passing. Cornfield jumped when about thirty feet away but Breding held on to the wheel and the car dashed into the train with a crash. The whole front end of the car and one of the front wheels was torn away. Breding was still holding to the wheel when a doctor returning from the hospital discovered the car and sent for assistance.

ALLIES VICTORS ON FIVE FRONTS OFFENSIVE HALTED

LONDON, Jan. 29.—It is announced the allies were victorious on five fronts. The British raided near Neuville St. Vaast and Le Mans. The French raided near Verdun. General Sarrailh with French, British and Serbian forces advanced in Macedonia, toward Plopie. The Russians retained their gains on a two mile front on the Roumania-Carpathian line and halted an attempted German Riga offensive.

BLIND CONGRESSMAN AND SON, WHO IS SOLE GUIDE

Congressman Thomas D. Schall, of Minnesota, is totally blind. He is guided about the national capital by his son, Thomas D. Schall, Jr., a boy of five. The photograph shows the two just after completing a 2400-mile trip about the country on their return to Washington.

PENDLETON DELEGATION CARRIES OFF HONORS OF ST. PAUL PARADE

The Pendleton brigade at St. Paul made a heavy splash in the big carnival parade Saturday, according to word received here and so impressed was Louis W. Hill with the showing that he has promised to bring a special train of Minnesota people to the Round-Up next fall.

The following wire received this morning from "The Bunch" by F. E. Judd tells of the showing Saturday: St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 28.

Saturday Pendleton's Round-Up was given greatest ovation of all divisions in parade of 20,000. All players play us up strong. The Round-Up costumes stand out among all others. Wherever we go traffic stops until we move. Louis Hill is devoted his entire time to us both day and night. He entertained us all tonight at dinner at his beautiful home. After dinner he showed us the advance movies of carnival and dog race. Weather perfect. Hill says will sure bring train to Round-Up.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 28.—With the parade, gorgeous in color and formation, the opening event of the St. Paul Outdoor Sports carnival out of the way, one fact is firmly established in the minds of the thousands who witnessed the spectacle today.

That fact is that honors rest between the whooping Indians and the Pendleton, Ore., cowboys and cowgirls who, charging down upon the deeply populated curb lines, provided a majority of the thrills that belonged to the occasion.

There were 20,000 uniformed marchers. Each section, each division, each club was something to be admired, but the spirit and dash of the far northwest horsemen who came upon prancing steeds was by far the biggest novelty. Their daring was something few spectators will forget.

Horses Have Festival Spirit. Stepping high up Fourth street through a mass of onlookers, these Oregon steeds, to all intents and purposes imbued with the same spirit that has gripped the 250,000 persons who have pledged themselves to the celebration, reared on their hind

VOLUNTEERS ARE HOME AFTER SIX MONTHS BORDER SERVICE

Pendleton's delegation of volunteers for service on the Mexican border arrived home Saturday night after more than six months of experience in the federal service. Of the 25 or more who went from Pendleton with the Granesville company of the Idaho National Guard, a number did not return, having secured jobs either

The troop train bearing the guardsmen of northern Idaho reached Pendleton at 11 o'clock Saturday night and the local boys dropped off. They had previously been mustered out of the federal service but still remain members of the I. N. G. It may be that they will secure full discharges soon.

With the Idaho regiment they spent several months at Nogales on

FIRE DESTROYS BLANKET FIRM

BOSTON, Jan. 29.—A wholesale district fire destroyed the Thomas Kelly company building, the largest woolen blanket dealers in New England. The damage was half a million dollars. Frequent hot air explosions occurred hindering the firemen and damaging adjoining buildings. The fire spread in two directions.

WELL KNOWN PIONEER WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Josephine Enbush Dies at Hospital at Midnight Last Night; Survived by Husband and 7 Children.

Death early yesterday morning brought to an end the life of another Umatilla county pioneer when Mrs. Josephine Enbush, wife of J. W. Enbush, succumbed to a complication of troubles that finally terminated in pneumonia. She died at St. Anthony's hospital about midnight.

Mrs. Enbush was 54 years old, having been born in Norway December 15, 1862. With her parents she came to the United States in 1875, settling first at Calumet, Michigan, and on May 1, 1877, arriving in Umatilla county. Her parents began farming in the Granesville country four miles west of Adams and were among the first of the pioneers to settle there. The year of their arrival was the year in which the Bannock Indian war broke out and the deceased lady with other settlers of that community were forced to flee to Weston for protection.

In 1884 she was married to Mr. Enbush and her husband and seven children survive her. The children are Henry J., Charles W., John Peter, Brida Miriam, Esther Susan, Frank J., and Edna J. Enbush, all of this city. A brother, John Hendrickson, lives at Major, Oregon, and several nephews and nieces, sons and daughters of the late Andrew Jacobson and Charles Pell, live in this county.

Deceased had lived in the vicinity of Pendleton for nearly forty years and had seen it grow from a small village to the "biggest little city in the west."

The funeral will be held Wednesday at noon at the Presbyterian church with Rev. Snyder in charge of the services. The body will be taken to the Granesville cemetery for interment.

WILL MOORE MAY GET APPOINTMENT

WILL BE RECOMMENDED BY DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL COMMITTEE FOR COLLECTOR OF CUSTOMS.

Will Moore of Pendleton, prominent democratic warhorse, is slated for the position of collector of customs in Portland if the state democratic central committee has anything to do with the appointment. The committee at a meeting in Portland Saturday afternoon decided to recommend him for appointment to Senator Chamberlain and Lane. At present the position is held by Thomas Burke of Baker but his opposition to the re-election of Senator Chamberlain two years ago has probably eliminated him for reappointment.

Mr. Moore attended the meeting as a committee man from Umatilla county. He returned home yesterday.

HOT DEBATE OVER THE "BONE DRY" BILL IS ON

(East Oregonian Special Wire Service.)

SALEM, Jan. 29.—The bone dry bill debate started at ten thirty this morning. It continued uninterruptedly until noon and will be resumed at two o'clock. Anderson said the bill's passage was most important to the state's welfare. He reviewed the prohibitory legislation of the past four years and said that crime records showed prohibition was justified. Lafferty attacked the section permitting fraternal orders to import liquors for sacramental purposes. He said secret societies could easily violate the law. Mackay attacked the emergency clause. He said no emergency existed and it was a bad precedent. Burton said the measure was the greatest economical project before the legislature. He said the abolition of liquor was parallel economic question. It is expected the bill will certainly pass this afternoon.

PUBLIC HEARING ON TRUST COMPANY ACT

The house banking committee will hold a public hearing Wednesday evening for the purpose of hearing arguments on the so called "trust company act" introduced as senate bill 112. The bill has aroused enmity in several trust companies and the hearing is for the purpose of giving the committee an opportunity to hear all sides.

MANN THREATENS TO SUIT ELLERMAN'S EAR

The pet stock industry nearly caused a personal combat at the meeting of house committee on expositions and fairs when Mann threatened to hit the ear of Ellerman. Ellerman requested that the pet stock industry be given an equal break with the poultry industry in any state appropriation. Ellerman who is president of the Oregon branch of the national pet stock association says his association will match any state appropriation dollar for dollar. Mann is head of the state pet stock and poultry association which has been holding exhibits for several years. Ellerman said Mann wants to get all the money for his part of the business. Mann said he would bite Ellerman's ear off if he did not show a little more reason in his position before the committee. Ellerman told Mann to start biting if he wanted to "start anything."

WESTLAND DISTRICT FORMED; TO BUILD STORAGE RESERVOIR

(East Oregonian Special.)

HERMISTON, Jan. 29.—The construction of a storage reservoir for the purpose of impounding water for the irrigation of the land under the Western Land & Irrigation Co., now the Westland Land Irrigation district, is an enterprise in store for the near future in this section. It is said the storage reservoir will be built as soon as financial arrangements can be made, it being the expectation to have work taken up this spring.

The directors of the newly formed Westland Irrigation district are J. M. Prindle, O. D. Tuel, G. R. Roberts, J. H. Strohm and J. W. Messner. G. W. Rugg is treasurer of the district.

SELLS INDEPENDENT GARAGE FOR $30,000

Through a deal completed here today George Haw has sold the Independent Garage property on East Court street to David Fathring of Spokane, the consideration being $30,000. The trade included the transfer of a valuable alfalfa ranch on Willow creek, near Jamieson, to Mr. Haw. Mr. Haw is now endeavoring to close up his other business affairs here with a view to moving to his new ranch.

The Independent Garage is a reinforced concrete building, two stories and a basement with a 71 foot frontage on Court street and 32 feet on Thompson. The building was erected by Mr. Haw after he had purchased the corner from George Peringer.

TWO SOLDIERS ARE HURT WHEN MEXICANS RIOT

Enraged Because They Cannot Enter U. S. Unbathed Mob Hurls Stones and Bottles at American Sentries.

WOMEN MOB REPORTER

Two Hundred Mexican Men and Women Gather at Juarez End of International Bridge.

EL PASO, Jan. 29.—Five hundred Mexican men and women resumed rioting at the Juarez end of the international bridge this morning. They were enraged because they are not allowed to enter the United States unbathed. They threw stones and bottles at the American sentries. Two soldiers were hurt. The troops charged the crowd in the middle of the bridge and clashed them with muskets. The Mexicans were driven back. Federal authorities announced that one Mexican was killed in yesterday's rioting and several wounded. The Mexican women attacked David McChesney, an American reporter. They tore his clothes and scratched his face. Four hundred women stormed the street cars, chasing the crews and hissing "gringos." Mexican cavalry charged the mob this morning, using whips. Shouts of "death to the gringos" were heard. The car company attempted to resume service but women lay across the tracks. All Americans have been prohibited from entering Juarez.

PENDLETON BOY TO FIGHT WITH ALLIES

Joe Despain Enlists With Canadian Troops and Is Now "Somewhere in France."

Joe Despain, well known Pendleton boy, is now fighting with the allies in the trenches "somewhere in France," according to a letter received by his brother-in-law, Frank Griggs. The letter was written during the middle of December from Bordeaux and stated that he expected to be ordered to the trenches within a week.

Young Despain enlisted with the Canadian troops at Sydney, Canada recently. He had been on the Mexican border with the Third Oregon but as soon as he had been mustered in he left for Canada to enlist for service in Europe.

He is the youngest son of the late Joe Despain, pioneer resident and several of his brothers and sisters live here. He is but 19 years old. In his letter home he stated that he already had had many experiences that he would like to tell them but that he could not because of the censorship.

COMMERCIAL CLUB IS ASKED TO PROTEST

Portland Chamber of Commerce Starts Move to Combat Attempt to Discredit Department of Commerce at University of Oregon.

Branding the attempt of a special legislative committee to discredit the department of commerce of the University of Oregon as "ridiculous and sinister," the Portland Chamber of Commerce has addressed the Multnomah county delegation to oppose any such plan vigorously and has written to the Pendleton Commercial association and to other such organizations in the state to address their local delegations in similar manner.

"The effort should be combated by every power at the disposal of the business interests of the state," writes Secretary Dodson of the Portland organization. "The great help and inspiration to the whole state from the Department of Commerce, its assistance in sending out bulletins on markets the fruit and flax industry, electrical primer etc. and the co-operation of its head, Hon. H. B. Miller, with all of the commercial organizations of the state" are some of the reasons set forth by Secretary Dodson for opposing any effort to injure it. President Brock of the Pendleton Commercial association will call a meeting of the board of managers to discuss the proposal to address the Umatilla county delegation on the subject.
